

AGE-WELL ACCESS AWARD

Access to Courses, Conferences, and Exchanges for Student Success

The AGE-WELL ACCESS Award offers funding of up to $5000 to support AGE-WELL HQP in experiential learning opportunities such as internships and exchanges as well as to support travel, conference and course fees.

The proposed learning activities should be in line with the goals of the AGE-WELL EPIC program (<http://agewell-nce.ca/epic-program>), such as:

- Experiential learning such as working with industrial or community partners in applied settings
- Transdisciplinary learning such as exchanges with labs and research centres in different academic fields from the home department/degree
- Conference participation that "extends the reach" of the HQP and of the AGE-WELL Network, including new areas or research, new approaches, new methods
- Courses or summer institute participation that will expand the HQP's career path and that are innovation focused

Funding will not normally be given for learning and training that falls within the HQP's routine disciplinary training.

Preference will be given to those HQP seeking funding to undertake activities toward completing the EPIC training program and earning the Innovators of Tomorrow certificate.
